Right to Life of Northeast Indiana unveiled as new regional affiliate

FORT WAYNE, Ind. - Today at the 46th annual Northeast Indiana March for Life in downtown Fort Wayne, Ind., Allen County Right to Life unveiled their regional shift to become Right to Life of Northeast Indiana. The expansion includes 7 counties: Adams, Allen, DeKalb, LaGrange, Noble, Steuben, and Wells. The change comes after recognizing that Allen County Right to Life could better serve their area by partnering with already strong pro-life communities in the surrounding counties. Many of the residents participate in Allen County pro-life events such as the March for Life that happens each year.

"We have met with many passionate pro-life groups and individuals throughout Northeast Indiana that are working hard to promote a culture that respects life in their communities," Abigail Lorenzen, Operations and Media Director for Right to Life of Northeast Indiana, said in a statement. "Our shift to regional affiliate reflects a partnership between these seven counties to move forward together to educate, advocate, encourage, and defend all human life. Our area already has strong pro-life values. As a region, we are stronger together."

The March also included a video that unveiled the expansion and explained how pro-life advocates in Northeast Indiana can translate their values into loving action. Right to Life of Northeast Indiana welcomes anyone that would like to partner in advocating for innocent human life, from conception to natural death.

RLNI will be supporting the Northeast Indiana region through the programming and initiatives they have in place today. A few examples of these include:

- Church or School Pro-Life Presentations
- Special Events / Movie Screenings
- Candidate Survey & Responses
- Bus Trips to the National March for Life in D.C.
- Life Defenders Pro-Life Apologetics Training and Workshops
- Annual Legislative Forum
